

Privacy Policy

AiDose values the privacy of our users and is committed to protecting their personal information. We do not disclose any user data to third parties without the explicit consent of the user.

We only collect personal information that is necessary for the functioning of our site, such as name and email address. This information is only used to provide the services requested by the user and is not shared with any external parties.

We take appropriate security measures to protect against unauthorized access to or unauthorized alteration, disclosure, or destruction of data. These measures include implementing physical, electronic, and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect.

We may use third-party service providers to assist us in operating our business and the site or to administer activities on our behalf, such as sending emails or analyzing data. We may share your personal information with these third parties for these limited purposes, but only if you have given us your consent.

AiDose is not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of any third party sites that may be linked to our site. We encourage users to read the privacy policies of these sites before sharing any personal information.
